THE SAMOAN TROUBLE.

The following explanation, which is given by the Minister of Colonies, of the recent dispute between Germany and the United States, concerning Samoa, will be read with interest.

In 1888 the firm of Godeffroy & Company of Hamburg, made German their headquarters for the Pacific trade. From there they pushed their operations across the Pacific to the Friendly and other groups, northwards to the Kingdoms and neighboring islands and on to the Carolines and to Yap at the entrance of the sea of Luzon. The right of Spain to the Carolines was subsequently decided by Papal arbitration, but the Germans were still allowed the liberty of trading. The German settlement at Apia (now the chief town of Samoa) began by the purchase of 8,000 acres of land for about $500, paid for in arms and ammunition. This mode of barter was conducted in spite of the protest of the missionaries who opposed it as detrimental to native interests. But the German traders are said to have been so successful that the missionaries were eventually discouraged and declined to change their methods. As early as 1872 the chiefs of Samoa appealed for protection to the United States Government. Action was not taken until about 1875 Col. Steinberger was commissioned by the Government at Washington to examine and report upon the condition and prospects of the islands. He was well received by the head and was appointed his principal companion. Later on, Mr. Platt was sent to assist him. The London and Wesleyan missionary societies had already labored for the christianization of the natives, some of whom were civilized. There was a strong feeling of constitution, based to some extent on popular government. At that time the imports were computed to be about $125,000, the exports about $25,000. In 1887, the former had risen to $437,000, the latter to $856,725. Meanwhile, there had been good deal of fighting among the natives themselves, while the rivalry between the foreign nations kept pace with the advance of civilization. Conflicting accounts were sent home by the German and American consuls. The former, backed by Prince Bismarck, claims that, German interests preponderate, the Germans should have the mastery. The Americans urged the rights of the indigenous natives, and an American named Klein is said to have headed the insurgents in a skirmish in which more than fifty German soldiers were slain. The Germans had, however, previously deposed King Malaetoa and set Tanamases on the throne. It is said that we have no direct statement from Mr. de Oosterga, the British consul, but Prince Bismarck seems confident of his sympathy with Germany's side in the quarrel. The controversy will not now likely lead to hostilities between the nations concerned, latest advice being that Germany, after all taking possession of the chief island, has informed the United States of its intention to withdraw its military power.

THE PAPA FINANCES.

The Pope has lately examined the accounts of his income and expenditure during the year 1888. The following are the principal figures: From St. Peter's Pence he received $300,000; from interest of capital invested abroad, $100,000; from alms and other sources, $20,000; making a total income of $500,000; to which must be added $200,000 received during the jubilee. The ordinary and extraordinary expenses of the Vatican during the year have been as follows: Alms given to Rome, $4,000; alms given abroad, $4,000; alms given in Italy, $4,000; ordinary subsidies to Italy, $2,000; ordinary subsidies to the Church generally, $2,000; ordinary subsidies to the Holy See, $2,000; sums for the propitiatory masses, $2,000; sums for the maintenance of the papal palaces, $2,000; maintenance of apostolic palaces, $2,000; expenses of public audiences, $2,000; of the Cardinals, $2,000; maintenance of seminaries, $2,000; divers expenses, $2,000. The expenditure for 1888, $500,000, which leaves a surplus of not much less than a quarter of a million sterling.—London Daily News.

"HORSES AT LOW PRICES."

Chinese American horse buyers have lately been anxious to purchase live stock at prices 25 per cent. lower than during the war. In a private conversation with a Chinese American horse trader, the scarcity of fodder in some quarters of the city was mentioned as the cause of the low price. The low price of horse feed, such as corn, rice, and other grain, is the reason. The low price of horse feed, such as corn, rice, and other grain, is the reason. SOME DAMAGING STORIES. What the Public Want to Know about the Farnell Letters.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—This week's Farnell Commission "proves" us more critical than last. Major Le Caron's cross-examination on Tuesday was indeed in one sense disappointing. Sir Charles Russell could make nothing of him. If there were flaws in his story, Mr. Farnell could not find them. Mr. Farnell, however, held his own in the last. His coolness and self-possession

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE FOR SICK HEAD.

It is the principle laid down by the Great for the guidance of their opponents. Let us see how it has been observed by their friends, who are in power in this province. In the public accounts of the Government, presented (1st December, 1881), we find that the sum paid for each hire and street car tickets for the various departments was as follows:

Attorney General's Dept.	$50.00
Education Dept.	92.75
Crown Lands Dept.	40.40
Public Works Dept.	131.25
Treasury Dept.	64.75
Police Dept.	161.60

And there is a charge of $60 for the Minister of Agriculture's travelling expenses.

It is the old story. The practice of the Great power are totally at variance with the preaching of the Great out of office and hungry for places.

Matters in connection with the Bay Bridge project are progressing favorably and there seems to be no reasonable doubt that, within a short time, the project will be in a shape where it can be carried out. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and capillaries leading from the throat to the lungs, all must be kept in good order. When these are clogged and choked with mucus which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what if they do not do their work?

There is just one sure way to get rid of this mucus, and that is to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It will clear the lungs, and give you a new lease of life. It will cure the most obstinate cases of cough, asthma, and all the other diseases of the lungs. It will give you a new lease of life. It will cure the most obstinate cases of cough, asthma, and all the other diseases of the lungs. It will give you a new lease of life.
